Policy on Forbidding Students from Taking Part in any Political Activity

In medical college in Pakistan, there are generally strict policies against political activities within campus premises. These antipolitical policies implemented to maintain a professional and academically focused environment. There are the key points typically associated with these policies:

- Prohibition of political Activities: Students are not allowed to engage in political rallies, Meetings, or campaigns on campus. This includes the formation of political group or alliance within the college.
- Disciplinary Action: Students involved in political activities conflicts stemming from political ideologies may face disciplinary actions. This can range from warnings to suspension or even expulsion in severe case.
- Focus on Academic Neutrality: This policy aims to create a neutral and unbiased academic environment, ensuring that students from all backgrounds feel included and not marginalized due to political disagreements.
- Institutional Autonomy: This policy will help the institution to focus on their core mission of providing quality education and healthcare training without external political influences or disruptions.
